what is a dental implant?

A dental implant is a titanium screw that is placed into your bone, replacing your missing tooth root. After it's fitted, the bone surrounding your implant will gradually fuse to it, holding the implant firmly in place.

A false tooth (a crown, bridge or denture) is then fitted to the top of the implant. The false tooth or teeth are similar in shape, size and colour to your existing teeth, meaning your implant will blend in naturally with your smile.
